TONIGHT'S CIVIC MEET WILL BE BIGGEST YET

President Defends His World Court Proposals

DENIES MOVEMENT TO ENTER LEAGUE

Chief Executive Talks
Before Meeting Of
Associated Press

ISSUE BECLOUDED PRESIDENT SAYS

Leaves No Doubt Of His Intention Toward World League

(Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 24.—Participation by the United States in the world court as proposed by the administration, President Harding today declared at the annual luncheon of members of the Associated Press, would be in "harmony with party platform pledges, candidatorial promises and American aspirations" and would not be an entry into the League of Nations by "the side door, the back door or the cellar door."

"Excessive friends" of the League, the President declared, had beclouded the situation by unwarranted assumption that the proposal is a move toward membership in the League, while adding the irreconcilable opponents of the League have also beclouded the question by the assumption that entanglements with Europe would follow.

The fear of entanglements, the President dismissed with the blunt declaration that if the senate was to consent to any, his administration would not complete ratification of such a proposal and would thereby prevent it from becoming effective. Reiterating his conviction that the United States could participate in the world court without assuming the risk which its opponents point out, President Harding reviewed the Republican party platform since 1904, all of which pointed out hope for a world court of arbitral justice and added "I believe in keeping the faith. If political parties do not mean what they say, then our form of popular government is based on fraud and cannot hope to endure."

But the President left no doubt that he has no intention of moving toward the League of Nations by his support of the world court.

"In compliance with its pledges," he said, "the administration definitely and decisively put aside all thought of the United States entering the League of Nations. It doesn't propose to enter now by the side door, the back door or the cellar door. I have no unseemly comment to offer on the League. If it is serving the old world helpfully, more power to it. But it is not for us. The senate has so declared, the executive has so declared, the people have so declared. Nothing could be more decisively stepped with finality."

Mr. Harding made it plain that he did not consider the world court question paramount to all other national problems and added that neither did he hold it a menace to party unity, evidently having in mind the warning issued by some Republican leaders within the last few weeks.

"It ought not to be classed as a party question," he continued. "But if any party repeatedly advocating a world court is to be rendered by the suggestion of an effort to perform in accordance with its pledges, it needs a new appraisal of its assets."

Sensing one of the principal arguments to be used by opponents of the administration proposal the claim that the United States would be placed at a disadvantage in the election of judges to the court through the disparity of voting power in the League assembly, the President said he frankly recognized this as a "political bugbear" but added that inasmuch as no nation could have more than one judge, it was less of an objection.

CONDUCTS REVIVAL HERE

REV. D. L. COALE.

Rev. Coale will conduct a series of revival services at the Central Methodist church this week and next. Services will be conducted at 10 o'clock each morning and 7:30 o'clock each evening.

EVANGELIST COALE IS HOLDING REVIVAL

Evangelist Coale, who has been holding a series of meetings at Tuscaloosa, arrived yesterday to reinforce the workers now busy in the revival meeting now in progress at the Central Methodist church. Dr. Coale comes much encouraged for large results here, since the meeting he just closed at Tuscaloosa netted close to 500 converts, 44 of which number consecrated themselves to definite Christian work, such as the ministry and missionary service. At the Tuscaloosa meeting 103 united with the First Methodist church of that city where the revival was held and other denominations received large numbers of new communicants also.

Rev. Albert Cunningham, who is the evangelistic singer now traveling with Dr. Coale, has organized two "Win-One" clubs for personal work. The Junior club meets at 8:30 in the afternoon and the Senior club at 7:00. Both clubs have their meetings at the Central Methodist church.

Dr. Coale preached last night on "Soul winning and the Christian's responsibility." The speaker declared that only 5 percent of the church members were soul winners or personal workers and that the other 95 percent needed to be enlisted in an active crusade. He said people were saved to serve, as he understood it. The speaker said that the church "is God's life saving station" and that it needed to be manned with life savers.

In the first place Dr. Coale said the church needed a vision of the sinner's need of Christ. He said sin is now blighting the future of all, ruining character, bringing on spiritual death and opening the way to perdition.

"The church is asleep today" declared the speaker "regarding her opportunities and responsibilities to sinners." In this connection the speaker said that if Christians showed the same tender compassion the Master did, and were active and intelligent, it would not be long before the Christian life would be lived by the vast majority of the people.

In the second place the speaker said that Christ and the church needed the sinners, that the places that should be filled by the non Christians could not be filled by others, and that the cause of Christ would be weak in proportion as it was not strengthened.

DILLARD BEGINS REVIVAL SERIES

Declaring that "it does not take much of a man to be a Christian, but it requires all of a man" Dr. James E. Dillard, pastor of the South Highlands Baptist church of Birmingham, held his hearers to a strict account as to what they do with their lives, when he preached his first sermon at the Central Baptist church revival now in progress.

Dr. Dillard said "It is not yours but you that God wants." The distinguished visitor's sermon throughout was a successful effort to fix human responsibility upon human beings themselves. His text was taken from 2 Cor. 8:5, the teaching of which being "God wants men themselves first and not their gifts."

A special invitation was given to young people between the years of 8 and 16 years to attend the revival services.

The singer J. Fred Scholfield, of Birmingham, arrived yesterday with Dr. Dillard, and led the stirring hymns used last night. Scholfield sang a solo "Oh Make Me Pure" and led the congregation in the special hymn "Blessed Assurance." The volume of songs was so great from the visiting singer that Dr. W. P. Reeves spoke of his singing as being "like the tones from a great pipe organ."

Clothing Needed For Family Here

The county health department has found a family in distress, a mother and her four children without food or clothing.

Food has been provided by the grace of the Red Cross, but clothing is badly needed, for the mother, a boy about 12 years old, another boy about 9, a girl about 7, and a baby about 2 years old. Any who will donate clothing, used or otherwise, to this woman and her children, will be doing a service to humanity. Any supplies left at the County Health Department on Second Avenue, will be promptly delivered.

Respectfully,
H. C. McRee Co. Health Officer.

Rev. Cunningham sang with great effect a solo "Make me a channel of blessing," in addition to leading the congregational singing.

CHAPMAN ESCAPE IS AIRED IN COURT

Nurse From Hospital In Athens Testifies
At Hearing

IDENTIFIES PAIR AS GETTING NOTE

Girl Says She Gave Two Men Letter From
The Mail Bandit

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 24.—Miss Cora Raney, a nurse at Athens, Ga., hospital, testified today in proceedings before United States Commissioner Hitchcock that she had delivered a note to Abe Silverstein and Dominick Didato, who are charged with aiding Gerald Chapman, Broadway mail bandit, to flee from the hospital. She also said she had received a letter from Chapman, three days after his escape, but she denied that she had any part in the plot.

Counsel for Silverstein and Didato was given until Thursday to submit a brief, supporting his intention that the indictment returned against them on April 13, in Georgia, were insufficient.

She identified Silverstein and Didato, stating that they were known to her as Cohen and Krauze, respectively.

She said she met the pair April 4 and delivered a note from Chapman to them.

Miss Raney testified she met Chapman's alleged accomplices in the Athens flight on a street car there and gave Chapman's letter to Krauze, who in turn handed it to Cohen. She then visited the Palm Garden, a place of entertainment, where refreshment and drink were sold, with two men, and afterwards went for an automobile ride with them.

"Did you know Chapman before he was brought to the hospital?" she was asked.

She said she did not.

"As a nurse did you have charge of him?"

"No, but in the course of my duties I had to go into his room."

"You then saw him at intervals?"

"Yes."

"Did you help Chapman to escape?"

"I did not."

Miss Raney admitted she had heard from Chapman following his escape. She said she had received a letter written on plain paper and mailed in Athens on April 7.

The witness testified that she had never seen Krauze or Cohen in the hospital.

Previous to meeting Cohen and Krauze, Miss Raney admitted she had a talk with Chapman and he had told her the men were expected in Athens from New York. When she delivered the letter Cohen told her she had come too late as they would have to buy an automobile and it was too late to get one in Athens.

PRIEST SHOTS DOWN HIS RECTOR

Rev. Father H. O'Neill.

While sitting at supper with his rector, Rev. Father H. O'Neill of St. Augustine's Church, in Kalamazoo, Mich., Rev. Father Charles J. Dillon fired six shots into his superior, killing him instantly. Father Dillon handed Father McCullough, who was present, a vial of holy oil and bade him administer extreme unction to his victim. Then Father Dillon went to the telephone and summoned the police, to whom he surrendered.

Pratt City Barber Is Reported Flogged Within Inch Of Life By Mob Of Ten

(Associated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 24.—It became known at police headquarters today that Joe De Carlo, 33, Pratt City barber, was flogged within an inch of his life and later dumped into a mud hole Sunday night by a mob of nine or ten men.

De Carlo, according to information gained by police, was abducted in Wylam at the point of pistols, whisked to a wood several miles beyond Edgewater and there whipped with a strap, numerous strokes being applied.

De Carlo did not report the flogging to the police, they said, and today the police investigated the case, he stoutly refused to discuss it.

Mrs. De Carlo told the police her husband returned home at four o'clock yesterday morning, showing signs of having been roughly treated. He was forced to walk several miles in a weakened condition to reach his home, she stated. The wife said she knew of no reason why her husband should have been attacked.

Mrs. De Carlo told the police that a blow on her husband's head had rendered him delirious. She said he returned home without a coat, hat or shoes and that several hours were required for him to find his way.

BRIDE AND GROOM TESTIFY IN COURT

(Associated Press.)

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 24.—Two more disciples of "King Benjamin" Purnell, a bride and groom of last week's wholesale marriages at the Israelite colony of the House of David went before the grand jury this morning to explain their sudden wedding and tell what, if anything they knew about alleged immorality in the colony.

Bery Drake Kirkan, sister of Countess Drake Woodruff, who testified yesterday, and Mrs. Kirkan's boy, husband, Henry, were today's first witnesses.

They testified, according to reports from the grand jury room, that they had married voluntarily and of their own wish and that since their marriage, they have obeyed the virgin law of the cult, which forbids marital relations between husband and wife. The girl, it was reported, denied knowing anything about alleged improper conduct of "King Benjamin" with the virgins who live with him and Queen Mary Purnell at Shiloh, the headquarters of the colony.

Only three of the thirteen couples who remained to be questioned were brought to St. Joseph today. The others will appear in groups from day to day until they have all been examined.

May 7th Term of Court Is Postponed Convict Leasing Fought By Women

(Associated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM MEN WILL SPEAK HERE

Assurances Ample For Record Crowd At Banquet Tonight

133 ACCEPTANCES ALREADY ARE IN

Bunn and Loveman Will Deliver Addresses
On Better Trade

Assurances are ample for a very largely attended meeting of the Albany-Decatur chamber of commerce this evening, with 133 acceptances to the banquet which is to precede the meeting already received at an early hour this morning, room will be ample for a score or more diners in addition, it was announced.

It is pointed out that while the crowd will be large that full preparations are being made for taking care in a royal manner of any and all who put in an appearance when the feast is spread at 7 o'clock sharp.

It is especially urged that none who have indicated their intention to attend the meeting and the banquet and have their tickets fail to make good, as the workers for the success of the gatherings are in a high state of expectancy, besides it would be a matter of local pride, one official pointed out, to give the distinguished invited guests a royal welcome and a large hearing, when they speak following the banquet.

Q. L. Bunn, manager of the Birmingham chamber of commerce, to be one of the two principal speakers and the other chief speaker will be Joseph Loveman of Birmingham, the well known authority on civic matters in general and on merchant organizations in particular.

It was announced by J. W. Clayton today that there was no doubt as to the presence tonight of the two Birmingham men, and they are expected to arrive on Louisville and Nashville No. 2 this afternoon.

In addition to the visiting speakers, some others will be heard from and a report on the activities of the chamber is expected from J. W. Clayton, its President.

The dinner will begin promptly at the hour set, so as to enable the many matters that are to come up, to be disposed of, without keeping the company until a late hour.

Mrs. Frank Morrow and Miss Ruth Banks will render a musical program.

The dinner is to be served by the ladies of the Eastern Star, under the direction of Mrs. J. T. Nelson, who promised a feast fit for the gods.

Success Is Met In River Fund Drive

The Albany committee which worked yesterday to secure pledges to the Tennessee River Improvement Association, met with flattering success, one of its members stated this morning. It is the present intention of the members to "rest on their laurels" now until Friday when another round up will be made, in an effort to get the entire quota for Albany of $1500.

MOBILE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ASKS BETTER AD SAFEGUARDS.

Advertisements placed in newspapers cost money and they should be absolutely truthful. The goods advertised should indeed be "as advertised." For many years the public has been accustomed to regard with confidence the advertisements found in reputable newspapers.

It is no longer necessary to include in an "ad" special assurances as to its truth, or to place on the displayed goods the words "sold as advertised," for it is well known that the prices printed in an advertisement are identical with their selling price in the stores. This state of affairs has been brought about by long years of "trial and tribulation." Honest newspaper owners have had to contend against unscrupulous advertisers in the past, but such unseemly contests are happily about over. Many of the states have such strict laws against fraudulent advertising, that it is a difficult matter for men to publicly misrepresent their stock. In this state, however, owing to the appearance of the word "knowingly" in the law, aimed at dishonesty in advertising, honest advertisers are put at a disadvantage.

In other words the "burden of proof" is placed on the state wherever a controversy arises over the integrity of an advertisement. Under present Alabama law it is necessary to prove that a person or persons "knowingly" and "with malice aforethought" sought to deceive their prospective customers. To establish such a contention is obviously a very difficult thing.

Many people in this state including the Retail Department of the Mobile Chamber of Commerce takes the ground that until the "burden of proof" is thrown upon advertisers suspected of dishonesty, the present law in Alabama against untruthful advertising "is a dead letter, as the following quotation from the "Mobile Mobilizer" shows:

Alabama has a statute prohibiting fraudulent or untruthful advertising, but it practically is a dead letter because of one word which it contains. The Retail Department of the Mobile Chamber of Commerce is seeking assistance to have this statute changed by amendment so that it will become operative and effective.

This can be accomplished by eliminating the word "knowingly" from an act of the Alabama legislature, approved September 1, 1915, the title of which is as follows:

"An act to regulate, prohibit and provide punishment for the publication of untrue and misleading advertisements, and requiring that all newspaper and other periodical advertisements be marked "advertisement."

The National Vigilance committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, says in a letter, that opposition to the statute usually shows itself in an endeavor to include the word "knowingly" in connection with the misrepresentations covered by law.

This means that the state must prove that the misrepresentation in the advertising is made by the defense knowingly.

"Printers' Ink in its model statute, does not contain this word "knowingly" on the theory that every advertiser is presumed to know his own merchandise. It is practically impossible to secure a conviction under a law against fraudulent advertising if the word "knowingly" appears.

The Daily knows of no attempts by advertisers to deceive the public. The merchants and other advertisers of this section will doubtless be ready to cooperate in any movement that will bring the Alabama law, against dishonesty in advertising up to the full standard as asked by the best authority in this subject.

THE MOVEMENT FOR AMERICA'S ENTRY OF THE WORLD COURT.

The course taken by civilized men has been away from force methods and toward methods of peace and arbitration.

In the early days of this country military law reigned in the far west, but after a while there came a call for a recognition of the "dignity of the law" as the early settlers expressed it.

As courts took the place of private settlements of disputes, so instead of nations settling their differences as individual nations, a plan that always has and always will lead to the use of force—nations should settle their differences in international law courts.

The movement of President Harding, although he is starting it at a late date, to get the United States to enter the world court set up by the League of Nations, if successful, will tend toward reducing the cost of military preparedness, but this and should be for protection.

Those who win are those who know how to profit best by what they gain.

It can never be told for a certainty that spring is here until the voice of the turtle dove is heard in the land, but still a few more days like Monday and who will give a hang for all the signs.

The election broth of her political enemies was spoiled by just one Cook at the D. A. R. convention.

A plan is not complete until the work it prescribes is complete. "City Beautiful" enthusiasts please take notice.

The love of money is a bad disease, but the money itself is the next thing to good health.

The Yellow-Headed Blackbird.
The scientists have named the yellow-headed blackbird Xanthocephalus exanthocephalus. They have doubled up on the name for reasons best known to themselves, but presumably the blackbird does not care in the least what his name is, for his chief worry in life seems to be found in constant but unsuccessful attempts to make a singer of himself.

NEWS OF MOULTON AND LAWRENCE COUNTY

MOULTON, Ala., April 24.—(Special)—The Hatton School in west Lawrence county closed last Friday evening with appropriate exercises conducted by ten members of the ninth grade which received certificates indicating the completion of that grade. The school has been under the management of Hugh L. Taylor for the past three sessions and this one seems to be best in its history; that the high school work offered is being appreciated by the local district and districts surrounding it is proved by the attendance in the eighth, ninth and tenth grades; three years ago fifteen were enrolled in these grades, last year twenty-four and this year forty; by far the majority come from the surrounding districts. In the session closing it was announced that more than $1,000 had been raised for the support of the school over and above county funds used. The session was extended to eight months. Mr. Taylor had this year a fourth teacher added to his assistants in order the work might be begun in the tenth grade. The assistants have been Miss high school; Mrs. Hugh L. Taylor and Miss Ina Allen, intermediate work; Miss Mattie Lou Windham, primary; the enrollment was 157. Before another session the school expects to begin the erection of more commodious quarters by putting up the first unit of a modern school building; the purchase of a moving picture machine for the benefit of the school and community is also under consideration. The teachers of the school are leaving immediately for study at the Florence Normal.

Another step has been taken towards the erection of a much needed public school building in Moulton. In the past week five acres of land has been purchased and the subscription list for the building has been raised to an amount that justifies the hope for a new building before the coming autumn. The school improvement association has in hand funds enough to equip the new building almost if not quite in full.

In celebration in part for the hoped arrival of spring time Jim Stewart has had a new roof put on his home and J. J. Terry has had his roof treated with a coat of paint.

Hartselle News

HARTSELLE, Ala., April 24. (Special)—An unusual game fight was witnessed between a hen of the game variety and a large hawk, out on the Danville road between this point and Danville one day recently.

The hen was in a large field parallel with the roadway and was singled out as a prey for the hawk, who was circling high up directly overhead. The hen observed the hawk, and evidently sensed the fact that she was singled out for a sumptuous meal. Nearer and nearer came the hawk in his circles overhead; and the hen instead of running to cover, squared herself for the attack and showed all the gameness peculiar to her kind. With feathers ruffled and with head erect ready for the attack, she kept eye on the monster hawk that came nearer and nearer toward its intended victim, the hawk landed with all his might and made directly on the back of the hen, who recovering herself, fought for her life with a vengeance and with a precision which could not help eliciting the admiration of any one who saw it. Round they went, each struggling for the mastery when the hawk evidently deciding that he had taken on a foe worthy of his steel, rose and flew to a nearby woodland, deciding no doubt that the variety of chicken he had intended to prey upon was one who would contest every inch of the ground.

The hen recovered herself in a short time, and instead of showing any signs of fright, proceeded with her morning meal, conscious of the fact that she had upheld the tradition of her kind in an admirable manner.

With the advent of spring weather the actual planting of the present crop will be well under way when the week passes. Merchants report a very large increase in commercial fertilizer sales, and this is taken as an indication that there will be a large cotton crop planted.

Notwithstanding this feature, it is certain that there will also be adequate effort to raise those things which go to sustain life, and much inquiry is being made for improved seed corn, field pea seed, and numerous varieties of grasses for haying. Planters have learned the lesson that to raise cotton to the exclusion of the feed products is hazardous, and it matters not how much the price of cotton is at gathering time, it cannot be made a profitable crop if this important feature is abandoned to any appreciable degree.

Much of the land intended for the present crop has been turned, and planting will proceed with great dispatch. The city authorities have been receiving bids for sometime preparatory to having the business streets of the city put in good shape. The bids received so far have been too high in the opinion of those having the matter in charge, and they are deferring the work until such a time that a bid suitable to them can be received. Under the heavy traffic which is kept constantly going over the downtown streets, they have become exceedingly rough. It is quite sure that the matter will be carried to a

UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY.

Time is the test of truth and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Decatur. No Decatur resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twicetold testimony.

Mrs. J. L. Rose, 425 E. Pond St., Decatur, says: "After I did a hard day's work, especially washing, my back hurt severely across my kidneys. Mornings I was so stiff and sore, it took a lot of effort to get out of bed. I had seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and decided to try them. After using Doan's, I had no more of the trouble and I am glad to recommend this remedy to anyone suffering from kidney trouble." (Statement given March 16, 1914.)

On February 7, 1922, Mrs. Rose said: "I have used Doan's for attacks of kidney trouble since recommending them and they have always been reliable. Occasional use of Doan's keeps my kidneys in the best condition and I am glad to confirm my former statement."

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Under and by virtue of a writ of venditione expons in my hands from the County Court of Morgan County, Alabama, in favor of the Tennessee Valley Bank of Falkville vs John R. Rogers, I will proceed to sell on Saturday, the 5th day of May, 1923, at Drinkard's garage in the town of Falkville, Morgan County, Alabama, to the highest, best and last bidder for cash, during legal hours of sale, the following described personal property, as the property of the defendant, to-wit:

successful conclusion soon.

With the closing date of the two schools at this place but a few weeks away, active preparations are in hand for the commencement season. At the M. C. H. S. a large graduating class is putting on the finishing touches of a high school education. The class this year is a very large one, numbering about 30 in number.

About eleven o'clock Sunday morning, Charlie Sims and Charlie Morris became engaged in a difficulty in Georgia, a negro settlement adjoining Hartselle, when a shooting affray took place, in which Sims was shot with a shot gun in the hands of Morris. It is understood that the negroes were drinking and fell out over some trivial affair.

The wounds were not serious, but the injured man was well peppered with bird shot.

Morris was arrested by city police and placed in the city jail.

Those sportsmen who enjoy going after the finny tribe have been having some fine sport in the waters of Flint creek nearby the past week. Flint has long been a famous place for the elusive trout, that game fish which is always sought by anglers with the coming of every springtime. At Hartselle where the trout are always found in the early spring, has been the scene of some fine catches lately. Later in the season they move to the deeper water to raise their young.

Several Hartselle Shriners availed themselves of the extraordinary opportunity to go to Birmingham last week to be present at the Shrine ceremony attending the opening of the Masonic Temple there. Great in every respect was the version put on the affair by those who attended, and one of the largest classes in the history of this branch of the order in the state, were carried through the mysteries of the order.

A large number of friends and relatives went to Danville Saturday to pay their last tribute of respect to Mrs. Johnathan Orr, one of the oldest residents of this section who was buried in the old family burying ground Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Orr was the mother of J. B. Orr, for a long time a citizen of this place, and the wife of the late Johnathan Orr, and was known for her many splendid traits of character over a long and eventful life.

The little 9 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McDonald was carried to Benevolent hospital late Saturday afternoon, where it was found that an immediate operation was necessary in order to save the little fellow's life. It was found that he had a severe case of appendicitis, and was promptly operated upon by the hospital physician. At last accounts he was resting as well as could be expected under the serious circumstances attending the case.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald live on the Bee Line highway just north of this place and their many friends deeply sympathize with them in the unfortunate occurrence.

T. E. Crittendon is just completing two handsome bungalows in the eastern part of town. This makes several new homes Mr. Crittendon has completed here during the past several months.

Mrs. Belle Gill, whose serious illness has been the matter of great concern for her large circle of friends here and elsewhere over the county for some time, is still in a very serious condition. Her daughter, Mrs. Flora Gillespie, of Madison, is with her.

Dr. J. T. Burch, a prominent physician of Danville, was in the city Sunday. He reported considerable sickness in his section, numbering among the ailments considerable flu cases.

Charlie C. Robinson was a visitor in Hartselle one day recently enroute from New Orleans to his home in Decatur. Mr. Robinson is interested in a large fur house in the above city, and spends his winter's there. His summers he spends in his native county of Morgan, and is always glad to get back. He reports bad roads enroute, and considerable difficulty was experienced in negotiating the distance from the Louisiana city here.

Picnics and camping parties are being planned by the younger set now that pretty weather has come, and from now on will be of frequent occurrence.

A large audience heard Rev. R. W. Anderson at the First Methodist church last Sunday morning when he preached a scorching sermon from the text: "Be sure your sin will find you out." There were 230 present at the Sunday School Sunday morning, being the largest attendance recorded for sometime. Preaching service was held at the other churches in town, and the pretty day brought out a large attendance at each place.

Dunbar Boger, a top notcher salesman of the Paris Medicine Co., with headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., is home for a few days stay with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Boger. Mr. Boger has been spending the winter months in Tampa, Fla., recuperating from a slight indisposition. His many friends here were delighted to see him.
